ADVERTISEMENT.

IT was at first intended to publish only a Nomina Villarum, containing the Divisions, &c. of the County, as are mentioned in "Part IV." for the use of the acting Justices; but it having been suggested that many other things (not inapplicable to a publication of this sort) might be added so as to render it more extensively useful: an attempt, therefore, has been made to arrange the whole, according to the method used by Judge BLACKSTONE, of the Civil Division of the County, in order to introduce the names of the principal Magistrates (except those of Corporations) under each separate head; and of those Officers who are subordinate to them; with the times of their respective Appointments, and an account of their Salaries, Fees, &c. In the pursuit of these endeavors a variety of other matters are added, which has increased the book to ten times its original size: but with a view that it will remove many inconveniences, which has arisen from the Divisions of the County being generally unsettled and unknown; and that it will render it more easy to the Executive Magistrates, and to each subordinate Officer to know his own particular department, and the places allotted to his superintendence and care—The Author flatters himself with a hope, that it will be favorably received, not only by the acting Magistrates, whose attention to the good of the community has a right to claim all the information and assistance that any one may have it in his power to give them; but by every Public Officer, Landholder, and principal Inhabitant of the County.

Sherborne, Dec. 1795.

As most of the additions were printed off at times when they were suggested as improvements, in detached parts of not more than eight pages, and at a distance from the press, the revival of so small a part could not be done with that accuracy, as the nature thereof, and a comparison of the whole, brought into one point of view, made it necessary: it is therefore hoped that an allowance will be made for the following

Note: Where there are no Lords of Manors, the Constables are appointed at the Quarter Sessions, as expressed.

It will appear by the foregoing list, that the Chief Constables are appointed by the Stewards, &c. (except such as are particularly specified,) annually, at the different Court Leets; therefore no account of them can be accurately given: but if the Stewards were to forward a list of the names and places of abode of such Chief Constables, immediately after their appointment, to the Clerk of the Peace, and take care to select persons of responsibility, ability, discretion, and activity, nothing perhaps would tend more to carry the laws into execution; for by that means the Justices of the Peace would have proper information where to direct their Precepts; as it frequently happens, that in several of the large Hundreds, &c. the Chief Constable resides one year in the easternmost part of the county, and the following year he is found residing in the extreme westernmost part; whereby such Precepts will oftentimes miscarry, and the purposes of the laws be defeated. Were this more seriously considered, it might be of singular advantage to the public.—To remedy which inconvenience, the following Recommendation was made, Midf. S. 1792.

“ WHEREAS a material part of the duty of High Constables of the several and respective Boroughs, Hundreds, and Liberties, within this County, consists in executing the Justices’ Precepts for the County at large; and in collecting the Rates of the said County, and in making returns thereof: AND WHEREAS great inconveniences have arisen from a want of proper and responsible persons being appointed to that office:—It is therefore earnestly recommended to the Under Sheriff, Town Clerks, and Stewards of

“ the several Courts within this County, where such High “ Constables are elected, to prevent, as far as lies in their “ power, the appointment of persons who are improper, and
 “ not responsible, to execute the said office: and also that
 “ they, and the acting Magistrates of this County, will reject
 “ all such persons who are improper, and not responsible, who “ shall be offered as Deputies: And it is requested, that the “ Under Sheriff, Town Clerks, and Stewards aforesaid will,
 “ within a few days after the election of such Constables or “ Deputies, at the Courts aforesaid, transmit the names and “ places of abode of such as shall have been so elected, to the “ Clerk of the Peace of the said County.

By the Court, WALLIS.”

Note. A Copy of this Recommendation was transmitted generally to the Officers above-mentioned.

PETTY CONSTABLES are appointed in some of the large parishes, and are subordinate to the High Constable of the Hundred and Liberty.

TITHINGMEN are the same as the Petty Constables, though not of equal authority: they are both appointed at the Court Leet, and if no Court held, by the Justices in Sessions.—For the number of Tithingmen see the Tithings “PART IV,”

VI. SURVEYORS OF HIGHWAYS are appointed by the Justices annually, in every parish, and parochial chapelry, to remove annoyances in, and to direct the reparation of the Public Roads. Stat. 13 G. 3. c. 78. and 34 G. 3. c.—. —For the number of Surveyors see List “PART II.”

VII. OVERSEERS OF THE POOR are nominated and appointed annually, in Easter week, or within one month after, (though a subsequent nomination will be valid,) by two Justices, dwelling near the parish. Stat. 43 Eliz. c. 2.—For the places where Overseers are appointed see also List “PART II.”

NOTE.—No Return from West Stafford, East Holmes, Melbury Sampford, or West Woodlyates.

From these two Returns it will be perceived, upon comparing them together, that the rise during the short period of ten years, is inconceivably great, the latter being more than one-fourth the amount of the former; and this seems to be not a temporary start, but a part only of a gradual progression: so that in the same proportion, allowing for this gradual increase in twenty years, the sum of 35,315*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.* which was raised in the County in the year 1785, will be more than doubled!

BESIDES those Civil Officers already mentioned, there are other Officers specially appointed to collect and receive the public taxes of the County, viz. (1.) Receiver General of Taxes. (2.) Treasurers of the County Stock.

(1.) The Receiver General of Taxes, viz. Land, Window, &c. for this County and Poole, is FRANCIS STEWARD, Esq. of Waymouth; who was appointed by his Majesty, or by his direction, in the year 17-- , in the room of John Tucker, Esq. deceased.—This County is assessed yearly, now the Land Tax is at 4*s.* in the pound, the sum of 32,751*l.* 15*s.* 10½*d.* according to the proportions on the several Tithings and places mentioned “PART II.”—The Town and County of the Town of POOLE is assessed separately, and pays annually after the same rate of 4*s.* in the pound, the sum of 328*l.* 2*s.*

To collect this Rate, an Order issued at the Quarter Sessions to the High Constables of each respective Hundred, Borough, and Liberty, to present a List or Roll of the Inhabitants within their jurisdiction, at the following Sessions, rated proportionably according to the above sums; and then another Order (annexed to the List or Roll,) also issued, for the Constables to collect the same, and to pay it in, to the Treasurer of the Division to which he belonged. The Boroughs of Lyme Regis and Bridport were not rated on the Bridge Rate, alleging they were exempt by their charter: but at the Mich. S. 1669, the matter came on to be argued against the Borough of Lyme, and judgment was suspended until such time as the like cause then depending between the County

County and the Borough of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis should be determined: and afterwards 1672, it was ordered, that the town of Lyme should from thenceforth pay and be rated towards the Bridge Rate, when the same was at 35*ol.* the sum of 1*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* and Colway Tithing, in Whitechurch Canonickorum Hundred, the sum of 9*s.* 8*d.* and that the town of Bridport should be rated in future towards the Bridge Money, as they were usually assessed, viz. when the same were at 50*ol.* the sum of 2*l.* 19*s.* 8*d.* they having claimed an exemption, under an order of Sessions made 12 Car. II., not to pay to the Bridge Rate, for certain reasons therein mentioned.

On the appointment of the Treasurers, a new Rate was made and settled at Epip. S. 1740, and the County was divided, with respect to this taxation, into two Districts, namely, the Western and Eastern. The Divisions which belong to the Western Treasurer are, BRIDPORT, CERNE, DORCHESTER, STURMINSTER, and SHERBORNE; to the Eastern Treasurer, BLANDFORD NORTH, BLANDFORD SOUTH, SHASTON EAST, and SHASTON WEST, (vid. PART III.)—The following is a List of Gentlemen appointed since the passing of the Act, viz.

PRELIMINARY OBSERVATIONS

FOLLOWING LISTS.

IN the first are arranged alphabetically the names of the towns, parishes, chapelries, vills, and hamlets of the county, and the farms and places within the same, disposed in the following order: (1) manors, (2) towns, (3) parishes, (4) chapelries, (5) tithings, (6) villages, (7) hamlets, (8) farms and lands.

(1) The MANORS are distinguished thus * in the first column, "letter M", and are placed first in order, because a manor may contain many parishes, villages or hamlets, and it may contain only part thereof. The manors here attempted to be ascertained are those which are within hundreds, &c. and amount to 294. The manors of the hundreds, &c. are mentioned in pages xxi and xxii, and the lords to whom they belong.

(2) The TOWNS are distinguished in like manner in the second column "letters To", and amount to 15. A TOWN has the same signification as VILL in law, it includes in it BOROUGHs and COMMON TOWNS; the borough towns which send members to parliament are distinguished in large capitals: BLANDFORD is a town corporate, yet sends no members to parliament, nor have the corporation peculiar jurisdiction; but by charter, dated 15th Nov. 3 Jac. I. certain rights and privileges are invested in them. Other towns there are, viz. BEAMINSTER, CERNE ABBAS, CRANBORNE, SHERBORNE, STURMINSTER NEWTON, STALBRIDGE, and WIMBORNE MINSTER, which are not boroughs, but have privilege of markets:—also ABBOTSBURY, BEER REGIS, EVERSHOT, FRAMPTON, and MILTON ABBAS, are called towns, and have privilege of markets; but now by depopulation they are fallen into disuse and are not kept. (3) The PARISHES are distinguished in like manner in the third column, "letter P", and amount to 240. Parishes are not taken notice of in the civil division of a county but as vills. All parishes have, or had originally vills; but there are parishes in this county where the vill, which retains the name of the parish, is depopulated, and the church destroyed, such are expressed by notes where they occur. Most of the parishes contain many chapelries, vills, hamlets, farms and places: and to shew the extent of such parishes, those chapelries, &c. which have officers, and maintain their own poor, and which did, or do belong to the mother church are added, distinguished by italics: but they are also to be found in alphabetical order with their farms and places belonging to them.

(4) The CHAPELRIES are distinguished in like manner in the fourth column, "letter C", and amount to 61. The chapelries are of three sorts, viz. PAROCHIAL, FREE, and PRIVATE chapels, and are particularized by notes. A parochial chapel is that which hath the parochial rights of christening and burying. Degge, p. 1, c. 12. Those privileges make it no longer a chapel of ease, but a separate parochial chapel; for the liberties of baptism and sepulture are the two distinct parochial rights: and it differs not from a parish church if they have acquired and enjoyed this immunity. Ken. Par. Ant. 590, 591. A free chapel, or the freedom and exemption of all ordinary jurisdiction by the king, seems to be the distinction. Gib. 211. A private or domestic chapel is such as noblemen and other persons have, at their own private expense, built in and near their houses, and are maintained at their own charge, and chaplains provided for them by themselves. Degge, p. 1, c. 12.

(5) The TITHINGS are distinguished, in like manner, in the fifth column,

PRELIMINARY OBSERVATIONS, &c.

lumn, "letter T", and amount to 430. Tithings appear originally to have had the same signification in law as parishes, towns, or vills, for each had but one parish, town, or vill, and tithing; but now, by the increase of inhabitants, the towns are divided into several parishes, and the parishes into several tithings: thus it frequently happens that some of the tithings extend into two or more places, maintaining their own poor, and contain several farms and lands within the same. (6) The VILLAGES are distinguished, in like manner, in the sixth column, "letter V", and amount to 273; though there are some of the villages depopulated, and have no officers or poor; and others appoint officers and maintain their own poor, which are particularized by notes. (7) The HAMLETS are distinguished, in like manner, in the seventh column, "letter H", and amount to 175. The greatest part of these are entirely depopulated, and a few are increased, appoint officers, and maintain their own poor, which are also particularized by notes. (8) The FARMS are distinguished, in like manner, in the eighth column, "letter F"; those thus distinguished amount to 525, but their number is not easily ascertained with accuracy, as it frequently varies with the changes made by the different owners. Upon the whole, if this list should not prove of the advantage intended, the author will have to regret that he has employed a good deal of time upon a subject not very entertaining: but he flatters himself from the method used, corrections may be easily made with the pen, and by bringing every place within the parishes into one point of view, a complete and valuable list will be obtained, which it is now impossible to do without some years of investigation.

LIST, PART II.

In this list are also arranged alphabetically the parishes, chapelries, vills and hamlets; with the tithings and places paying their proportion of the LAND-TAX and COUNTY RATE in aid to such parishes, &c. The places mentioned in italics do not belong to the parishes, &c. under which they are placed, but are put there to shew the proportions of money originally paid to that particular parish, &c. This intermixture of parishes one with another, and the seeming contradictions with respect to both taxations, are explained by notes.

It may be necessary to observe, that the LAND-TAX, ever since the 4th W. & M. 1692, has continued in the form it now stands, more than half the time at 4s. in the pound, sometimes at 3s. sometimes at 2s. and in the years 1732 and 1733 at 1s. but without any total intermission: the medium has been 3s. 4d. in the pound. The present rate is at 4s. and is collected on TITHINGS eo nomine, and a certain number of those tithings make a division: though there are places denominated tithings, that make part of, and pay into other tithings within the same hundred, or liberty, and division: and there are others that are part of, and pay into parishes, which do not belong to the hundred, liberty or division; and which from immemorial custom, or other unfearedable reasons, were never separately collected or altered.

The general COUNTY RATE, since the passing of the act 12 G. II. 1740, is collected on PARISHES, CHAPELRIES, VILLS, HAMLETS, and EXTRAPAROCHIAL PLACES, eo nomine, and is paid out of the POOR'S RATE*.

The

* In the year 1776 parliament instituted an inquiry into the amount of the poor's rate in England and Wales, and again in 1786. The sums levied by this rate within this county appear to be very great, (see p. xiv); and the rise in some of the divisions have

PRELIMINARY OBSERVATIONS, &c.

The whole expenditure of the money raised by the county rate may be divided into two kinds, (1) ORDINARY, and (2) EXTRAORDINARY. (1) The ORDINARY expenses may be further subdivided into ancient and modern. The ancient are those before the act passed in the year 1740†, and nearly amounted to two rates, or 1000*l.* per ann. The modern are those imposed by parliament since that statute‡, and have increased in proportion as they commenced at the different periods. (2) The EXTRAORDINARY expenses may be also subdivided into special and common. The special are, for building of bridges, shire-halls, gaols, and houses of correction; and to these may be added others which are contingent or casual. The common contain all the various other articles enumerated in the notes, and to these may be included the salaries of officers which are constant or annual. The number of rates collected since the year 1740, one year with another, has been two and $\frac{1}{2}$ parts, which is equal to 1133*l.* 18*s.* 5*d.* but of late years, by the EXTRAORDINARY expenses, the medium has considerably encreased: though according to the land rate (which is said to be at 4*s.* in the pound, but is in fact, upon an average throughout the county, little more than half that sum) one year's taxation of the money so raised, is equal to sixty-five county have greatly exceeded the proportion in others, (see totals at the end of Part III.) but the accuracy of the money mentioned to be paid to the county rate may be doubted, as will appear from the following statement:

| Years. | Money raised within the year ending at East in Dorset. | | | No. of Rates ordered to be paid in that year. | Amount thereof in Money. | | | Rebduie applied to the purposes mentioned in the Returns. | county rates and half, at 500l. each: consequently, if 5 rates per ann. were raised, it will be upwards of 13 years before it will be equal to the present land rate of one year.

LIST, PART III.

This contains the parishes, chapelries, vills, and hamlets, maintaining their own poor, alphabetically arranged in the hundreds, boroughs and liberties to which they belong; and these are also placed in their respective divisions. The comparative amount of the LAND-TAX and COUNTY RATE are given, as in list Part II.; and at the end are the totals of each division, including the amount of the money raised for the relief of the poor in the years 1776 and 1783.

LIST, PART IV.

This is a complete Nomina Villarum of the county.

LIST, PART V.

In this are alphabetically arranged an account of all the stone bridges: the county bridges are distinguished as they are found among the records, with the times when they appear to have been first ordered to be repaired, and the expenses to be paid out of the public stock of the county: the other is as perfect as the nature of the information collected by the constables and tithingmen would admit of.

The standing rules of the quarter sessions, and extracts of particular orders, from the year 1664, are given in alphabetical order; and may possibly be of some use to the profession of the law attending the court of quarter sessions.

The appendix contains an abstract of the returns made to parliament in the year 1786, relative to charitable donations for the benefit of poor persons in this county. The parishes, &c. are alphabetically arranged, and the heads of the answers made to the enquiries are extracted as fully as the size of the book would admit of: and though several additions are made from the information since received, yet the account is still imperfect, and far from being complete. The annual produce in land and money (after the errors are corrected) will be 3847l. 13s. 3d $\frac{1}{2}$. and the amount thereof from the returns made to parliament is 4861l. 5s. 8d. which makes a difference of 1013l. 12s. 4d $\frac{1}{2}$. per ann. It is probable this difference arises from some of the charities extending into several parishes, and the annual produce of the charity put down in the aggregate to each parish, when only part thereof goes to a parish, or the whole benefit arises to each in succession. See Sir Robt. Miller's charity, Williams's, &c. &c. To assist this enquiry an index is made of the names of the donors.

On the oath of Andrew Way, Gent. it appears, that by order of the Corporation of Bridport, he had allotted and piled out 8 acres 3 roods 13 perches of land, at the place mentioned in the act for the intended building of an harbour; and it was moved by Council that the precept, under the hands and seals of two Justices, be read & filed: and notice was given of such allotment to the occupiers of such lands, and proved on oath; and it was also proved by the testimony of witnesses upon oath, that 6 acres 3 roods 25 perches, part of the premises, were in possession of John Bels, who claimed the same by lease from George Pitt the elder, Esq. for a term of 21 years, of which 6½ years were then in being; and the reversion and inheritance thereof belonged to Sir Anthony Sturt, Knt. George Chafin, George Pitt the elder, and George Pitt the younger, Esqrs. upon and subject to several trusts, and to and for the several uses mentioned in the settlements of the lands and estates of George Pitt the elder, Esq. and that the annual value thereof was 45s. and no more; and that upon the said land there is built a small hut, rented at 27s. a year:—that 2 acres 25 perches, other part of the said lands so allotted, was the inheritance of Thomas Strangeways Horner, Esq. and Susannah his Wife, Stephen Fox, Esq. and Susannah his Wife, and Sir Robert Long, Bart. being part of the lands of Thomas Strangeways, Esq. deceased; that on part thereof there was also a hut built, and that against the said hut there were two sheds erected; and that 25 perches, part thereof, was occupied with the hut, and were claimed by Robert Chilcott, who held the same from the Strangeways family by lease on lives, of which two were then in being; that the said Robert Chilcott was in possession of 2 acres, part of the same; and that William Lawes was in possession, as tenant to the said Chilcott, of the said hut and the 25 perches; and the sheds were erected and possessed by John Lea, John Bishop, William Bishop, and John White; and that the said 2 acres 25 perches were situate on the east side of the river there, and were part of the lands so allotted:—that the 2 acres of ground (all sandy lands) in the possession of Robert Chilcott, was worth 3s. a year, and not more; that the hut, now in possession of the said William Lawes, was then let for and worth 35s. a year; and the 25 perches belonging to it was worth 5s. a year; but the sheds were not worth 12d. a year. On an appeal to the General County Rate, by Nimrod Bailey, the only churchwarden and overseer of the parish or place of Steepleton, in the hundred of Pimperne, in this county, setting forth that the said parish or place was rated in and by the said rate the sum of 11. 5s. 6d $\frac{1}{2}$. and that no more than 11s. 6d. ought to be assessed on the said parish or place: and on hearing counsel on the part of the said appellant—ORDERED, That the sum of 14s. 0d $\frac{1}{2}$. be abated, and that the sum of 11s. 6d. be in future rated and assessed on the said parish or place. Epip. S. 1780.

“ That the parish of St. Paul, Covent-Garden, in the county of Middlesex, was assessed 69l. 5s. 7d $\frac{1}{2}$. although the annual rents or value of the lands and tenements therein assessed to the poor's rate do not amount to 32,000l. and that the parish of St. Mary-le-bone, in the said county, was assessed to the same county rate 71. 5s. 10d. only, although the annual rents or value of the lands and tenements in that parish, charged with the poor's rate, amounted to 140,000l. or thereabouts; wherefore the petitioners conceived the said county rate to be unequal.”—Upon hearing the appeal, it appeared to the Court, that the allegations contained in the said petition and appeal were true; but the Court conceiving they were not authorized by 12 G. II. or any other law, to vary the proportions of the county rate, as it hath continued in its present form since the year 1739, did therefore dismiss the said appeal.—After hearing counsel on both sides, Lord Mansfield said, there is great hardship in this case, but the point is settled by the authority in Parker's Reports 74, and we can give no relief. The divisions of the land-tax were settled in 1694. By the increase of the metropolis it happened, that a great quantity of the land in Westminster has since been built upon; but the act having laid the tax upon the division, the division is no further liable than before. In this case to be sure the subject is different, but the reason is the same in both. By this act, county rates are to be collected in the same manner as rates have been usually collected in the several districts; upon parishes eo nomine, and not upon individuals. We have no authority to alter this proportion, notwithstanding change of circumstances, and though convinced that the equity of the case is with the appellants. Cal. Caf. 158. Hil. Term, 22 G. III.

* By the above Will, the sum of 2000l. was given to be laid out in Government Securities, in the names of the Right Hon. Anthony Earl of Shaftesbury, the Right Hon. Henry Lord Digby, the Right Hon. George Lord Rivers, Sir William Oglander, Bart. Henry Wm. Portman, Edmund Morton Pleydell, David Robert Michel, James Frampton, Thomas Gundrey, Radford Gundrey, William Trenchard, Peter Beckford, Thomas Pitt (Lord Camelford), Thomas Ryves, John Bond, William Salkeld, Thomas Erle Drax, Esqrs. and William Chafin, Clerk, and their heirs, and the Recorder and Bailiff of the Borough of Blandford-Forum for the time being, and their successors, upon trust, to apply and dispose of the said principal sum of 2000l. and the interest, profits and produce thereof, as the same shall from time to time become due and payable, for and towards erecting, establishing and supporting of an Hospital or Infirmary, for the use and reception of sick and infirm persons in the said county; the same to be built at or as contiguous to the said town of Blandford-Forum as may be. And in the mean time, until a sufficient sum of money can be raised for supporting the said hospital, the interest, dividends and produce of the said 2000l. shall from time to time be vested in the names of the said trustees, their heirs and successors, in the further purchase of Government Securities, towards establishing a fund for the purposes aforesaid. Upon which legacy, Opinions were taken upon the following Cases, stated by the executors, viz.

CASE.

FRANCIS KINGSTON, Gent. by his will, dated 1st Feb. 1777, willed and directed thus, " First I will and direct that all my just debts and funeral expences be paid by my executors in trust herein after named:" Then, after giving some considerable annuities, and some pecuniary legacies, he also gave to the Bailiff and Burgeſſes of Blandford-Forum the sum of 300l. to be invested in their names in Government Securities, and directed the said Bailiff and Burgeſſes, and their successors, to lay out the interest and produce thereof yearly among the poor of Blandford aforesaid.—The said Testator also gave and bequeathed all his manors, messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and real and personal estate, (not thereby otherwise disposed of) unto Thomas Brine, Thomas Waters,* and John Withers, upon the trusts, and to and for the ends and purposes, and subject to the powers, provisos and directions therein after mentioned, viz. In the first place, that out of the said personal estate the said trustees should pay all his debts, legacies, and funeral expences; and that they should out of the rents and profits of his real estate, or out of the interest and produce of his personal estate, (if his real estate should not be sufficient for that purpose) pay all the annuities herein before given and bequeathed; and after payment of his said debts, legacies, and funeral expences, and the regular discharge of his said annuities, he directed that the surplus of his personal estate not already invested in any mortgage or landed securities, and also the surplus of the rents and profits of his real estate, should be by them yearly placed out at interest, on Government or other securities, and the interest arising therefrom should be also yearly placed out by them at interest in manner aforesaid, until a proper purchase could be made of freehold lands as near Blandford as could be; of which lands, together with the residue of his personal estate, and of his said manors, messuages, lands, and hereditaments devised to them as aforesaid, he directed that the said Trustees should stand seized in trust, to the use of his great nephew, Francis Kingston Galpine (still an infant) for life, remainder to him in tail male, with divers remainders over.—The Testator then went on, and after giving directions for his great nephew's maintenance and education, with power for him to make a jointure, and to grant leases, &c. he directs, that the overplus of the rents and profits of his real estates, after payment of the annuities and allowance of his great nephew's maintenance and education, together with the residue of his personal estate after performance of the trusts in his said will expressed, and subject thereto, should go and belong to such person as should first into the actual possession of his said real estate, according to the limitations aforesaid.

Then, after bequeathing his household goods and stock in trade to his nephew John Galpine, and directing an inventory thereof to be taken, he bequeathed as follows:—
 “Also I will and direct, that my executors herein after named shall, with all convenient speed after my decease, lay out and invest the sum of 2000l. in Government Securities in the names of several Gentlemen of the County of Dorset therein named, upon trust, that they and their heirs do and shall as soon as may be apply and dispose of the said principal sum of 2000l. and the interest thereof as the same shall from time to time become due and payable, for and towards erecting, establishing and supporting of an Hospital or Infirmary for the use and reception of sick and infirm persons in the county of Dorset; the same to be built at or as contiguous to the town of Blandford as may be. And in the mean time, until a sufficient sum of money can be raised for supporting the said Hospital, the interest, dividends and produce of the said 2000l. shall from time to time be invested in the names of the said trustees, their heirs and successors, in the further purchase of Government Securities, towards establishing a fund for the purposes aforesaid.”—
 And after appointing the said Thomas Brine, Thomas Waters, and John Withers, executors of said will, the Testator died without altering or revoking the same.

Upon a loose calculation, the Testator's debts and credits may be supposed (inclusive of 1500l. in the Stocks) pretty nearly to balance each other, not including therein the sum of 1100l. which he had out upon mortgages and landed securities.

The Questions for your consideration are; FIRST, Whether the bequest of the 300l. to the Corporation of Blandford, for the use of the poor of the said town; and also the bequest bequest of the 2000l. for the purpose of erecting an Hospital, both which sums are directed to be laid out in Government Securities, are for that reason within the Statutes of Mortmain? If not, then whether they may not become so, if there is or should be no other fund to establish the same, except the money in the Stocks and on mortgages?—As to the last of which, it is observable, that in the directions about laying out the surplus of the personal estate, the Testator confines it to the surplus not already invested in any mortgage or landed security; from whence it should seem that the mortgages are left of all to come in aid of payment, and that the Trustees are debarred from marshalling the assets, so as to pay debts out of the mortgages, and by that means make the other effects to answer the establishment of the charities?

SECONDLY, How far will that part of the will, which directs the 2000l. to accumulate, operate so as to bring it within the mischiefs intended to be guarded against by the Mortmain Acts?

Upon this case, drawn by the executors, the opinions of counsellors Madox and Mansfield were taken—other opinions were taken by the trustees, and from the diversity of such opinions, the validity of the legacy still remains in doubt; though from the sentiments of a gentleman, who ranks very high in the Court of Chancery, it should seem that no question can arise upon the validity of the bequest—"It is (says he) indisputably a good legacy, being out of personal estate: I do not see that the testator has, in any part of his will, made his real estate even an auxiliary fund for the payment of his legacies. The annuities are directed to be paid out of the rents of his real estate—most certainly it would have been void, if it had been to be paid out of real estate; but charged as it is, no question can arise upon it. Supposing it therefore to be indisputably valid, it remains only to know, whether the personal estate is sufficient to pay the debts and legacies; if it is not, the several legatees, and this legacy, among the rest, must abate in proportion.—As to the measures to be pursued, what can they be but to demand the legacy from the executors, and if they refuse to pay it, a bill might be brought by the trustees against the executors, for an account of the personal estate, and for payment of the legacy?"

Upon the whole, as this bequest is a matter of public utility to the County in general, and the institution of a County Hospital of that consequence, (which would undoubtedly promote medical knowledge, and as such be of use, not only to the poor, but to all mankind,) it seems to claim the attention of every gentleman of the County, not to suffer so large a benefaction, and which is yearly increasing, to be supinely given up, but to institute a suit without delay; they would by this means have the satisfaction of knowing, that this public benefit has been patronized with that public spirit which is peculiar to them.

Ten pounds per annum, for ever, out of the net proceeds, between his trustees and their successors, in recompense to them for discharging their trust :—after allowing the said 10*l.* per annum, and the legacies given by his will, and debts, and the expenses of his funeral, being first paid, he appoints the first 500*l.* which should arise out of the profits of his said lands, for the discharging the legacy given to his child, in case his wife should have any by him.

After payment of the said 500*l.* for such child, if any, he then appoints 20*l.* per annum, of the remaining net profits of the said lands, during the continuance of the lease then in being, towards the maintenance of a free school, at Litton, in this county, in the manner therein mentioned.

The testator then gave the remainder of the net profits of the said lands, for the binding out apprentices to mechanical labouring trades, such poor children and youths of the said parish of Litton, the towns of Dorchester, Southampton, and city of Salisbury; to every child 5*l.* for placing them out apprentices, and 5*l.* more for a stock to set up at the end of their apprenticeship, to such persons only of the said places, as were industriously inclined, in the judgment of the trustees.

For the more exact direction of the trustees in this affair, the testator appointed, that when such remaining part of the net profits of the said lands, determined to the use aforesaid, should amount to 500*l.* received by the said trustees, then the same to be thus disposed of :

One fourth part thereof to the children of Litton ; three fourth parts thereof to the children of Dorchester ; and the second 500*l.* thus to be raised, to the children of Southampton ; and the third 500*l.* in like manner to the children of Salisbury ; and thus successively, as money should be received. Such several sums of 500*l.* to be disposed of, for the placing and setting up the children of the places aforesaid, (such children being accordingly qualified, as far as may be discerned by the said trustees,) during the continuance of the said lease, by which the said lands were then granted.

After the expiration of the said lease, which expired the 26th of March, 1769, the testator appointed 100*l.* certain per annum, (the said 10*l.* to the trustees and other legacies deducted,) to be employed to the uses aforesaid, as follows :

One fourth part thereof towards the school at Litton, and three fourth parts thereof to the placing and setting up children
